

Lesson
10

Churches Minister to People

Some visitors went into a fine cathedral. They took time to marvel at its beauty, its architecture, and its treasures. Local church leaders remarked to their guests, “Long ago Peter said to the lame man at the Beautiful Gate, ‘I have no money at all.’ Now we need no longer say that we have no silver and gold!”

“Ah,” replied one of the visitors, “unfortunately, neither can you any longer say with Peter, ‘I give you what I have: in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth I order you to get up and walk!’” (Acts 3:6).

Churches today must minister to the needs of people as the New Testament churches did! Wealth, education, and prestige are no substitute for the power of God. “Jesus Christ is the same yesterday, today, and forever” (Hebrews 13:8). May we minister to people in His Name!

Churches Nurture Believers
Churches Help the Needy
Churches Evangelize the Lost

This lesson will help you . . .

- Give reasons why churches must nurture believers. Explain how churches can help the needy.
- Explain the urgency and importance of evangelizing the lost.

Objective 1. List ways that the church can nurture its believers.

True church leaders are like faithful shepherds who look after the sheep. Jesus gave us a story about a good shepherd and a hired man. He said:

I am the good shepherd, who is willing to die for the sheep. When the hired man, who is not a shepherd and does not own the sheep, sees a wolf coming, he leaves the sheep and runs away; so the wolf snatches the sheep and scatters them. The hired man runs away because he is only a hired man and does not care about the sheep. I am the good shepherd. As the Father knows me and I know the Father, in the same way I know my sheep and they know me (John 10:11-15).

Soon after Timothy and Mary’s wedding they were received into their church as members. Besides attending Bible studies, they have been going to leaders training classes and have taken several correspondence courses. Because of this, and the times of prayer they spend together, they have both grown rapidly in the Lord.

Serving as a youth leader has taught Timothy many lessons too. He has discovered how the Holy Spirit helps him speak when he seeks God and depends on Him. Mary has been teaching a Sunday School class. She also has been practicing the piano and now plays for their youth meetings. They really enjoy their church!

Timothy and Mary’s church illustrates ways that a church can nurture its believers. The word nurture means to supply with nourishment, to train, and to educate. Church leaders are to nourish the flock of God, helping new converts to feed on the Word of God. The church provides opportunity for people to pray and seek the Lord; it encourages them to be filled with the Holy Spirit; it is there to pray for the sick and to comfort in time of sorrow. The church is the visible expression of the body of Christ.

CHURCHES HELP THE NEEDY

Objective 2. Describe how churches can help the needy in practical ways.

At the beginning of Christ’s own ministry He stood up to read the Scripture in the synagogue (house of worship) at Nazareth, His hometown. Unrolling the scroll He read:

The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has chosen me to bring good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim liberty to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set free the oppressed and announce that the time has come when the Lord will save his people (Luke 4:18-19).

Jesus is called the Christ, meaning “Anointed One.” God anointed His Son with the oil of the Holy Spirit and power. “He went everywhere, doing good and healing all who were under the power of the Devil, for God was with him” (Acts 10:38). Like Christ, people of His church must be anointed with the power of the Spirit to tell the good news. You studied about this in Lesson 2.

Jesus came with good news for the poor. The poor represent needy hearts everywhere. The message of salvation and deliverance must be given to them in a way that they will understand and respond to. Jesus also spoke of the captives, the blind, and the oppressed. These words may describe people either spiritually or physically, but Christ came to meet every need. The gospel spells complete salvation for the whole person—body, soul, and spirit!

The Bible tells us to balance our faith with our actions:

My brothers, what good is it for someone to say that he has faith if his actions do not prove it? Can that faith save him? Suppose there are brothers or sisters who need clothes and don't have enough to eat. What good is there in your saying to them, "God bless you! Keep warm and eat well!"—if you don't give them the necessities of life? So it is with faith: if it is alone and includes no actions, then it is dead (James 2:14-17).

In some countries large populations live in makeshift shacks, wondering where the next meal will come from. They face desperate shortages of food and clothing. In other places refugees face starvation. How can God's people help them?

Churches can give through organizations that know how to reach these distressed areas. Many church denominations also have relief programs and the local churches can send money, food, and clothing through these agencies.

At the same time we must not neglect the needy people in our own communities. The women's group or another arm of the church often takes on this responsibility. Perhaps a child coming to the church school lacks proper clothing or shoes. Someone can visit the family and with understanding and tact find ways to help.

And we must not neglect the rich and needy! Many people rich in this world's goods carry heavy burdens of confusion and emptiness. They, too, need the message of salvation and hope!

Objective 3. Recognize statements describing aspects of evangelizing the lost.

Jesus spoke of His own life and ministry as coming to “seek and to save the lost” (Luke 19:10). The lost are people in spiritual need of salvation and forgiveness of sins.

The churches’ primary task is to evangelize the lost. They do this by telling the good news of salvation to all, by witnessing of the power of Christ, by winning people to the Lord, and by making disciples who will evangelize others.

Three years have passed since Mary and Timothy’s wedding.

“What are you thinking about?” Mary asks Timothy, who has been very quiet all day.

“You know those four families who were saved last month—the ones who live on the other side of the city?”

“Yes. What about them?”

“They aren’t able to come regularly to church from such a distance. And there is no church at all in that area though it is heavily populated.”

“I know what you are going to say,” offered Mary earnestly. “God has been speaking to me about that too. We have to help them.”

“Praise the Lord!” exclaimed Timothy. “I’m so glad you are willing to do that, but do you realize what it will mean? We will have to give up attending the services we love so much.”

“Yes, I know,” assured Mary. “That was the hardest part. But I have finally surrendered and said yes to the Lord. I knew He was dealing with you about it too.”

“That confirms it to me, then, that it wasn’t just my imagination. I feel that God wants us to have a branch church there under the supervision of our pastor. I can keep my job and we can minister on weekends. The four families could form the base to start with. We will talk it over with Pastor and see what can be done.”

The preaching Timothy and Mary have heard about the field “ripe and ready to be harvested” (John 4:35) has challenged their hearts. And the training they have had in evangelism and church leadership along with actual experience in outreach has been preparing them. Now they feel that they have been nurtured by their church for a purpose—to put into action what they have learned.

Timothy and Mary are right! A church nurtures new converts and believers through the pastor’s messages, Bible teaching, and meaningful activities. But if all of this is merely flowing into people’s hearts, it will stagnate. Believers should be channels through which the blessing can flow out, and the more they give out, the more they will receive.

A church thrives on evangelizing the lost, as a fire blazes by burning wood. Our Lord before His ascension into heaven said:

You will be filled with power, and you will be witnesses for me in Jerusalem, in all of Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth (Acts 1:8).

At Pentecost the Holy Spirit came like fire; He provided power for the church to expand.

Today, churches around the world are being revived by the fiery power of God’s Spirit. As they obey Christ’s command to evangelize to the ends of the earth, they will become blazing fires in a world of darkness, chill, and gloom.

“God makes His . . . servants

flames of fire.”

—Hebrews 1:7

Of all the things that churches do, this is the most important—for when the Savior’s gospel has been preached and taught to all peoples of the world, Jesus Christ Himself will return for His own!

For You To Do

5 Complete the following sentence in your own words. In a spiritual sense, those who are lost are those who .....

6 Circle the letter in front of each activity that is part of evangelizing the lost.

- a) Sharing the good news of salvation
- b) Witnessing and giving our personal testimony
- c) Winning people to Christ
- d) Making disciples who will in turn win others

Now you are ready to fill out the last half of your student report for Lessons 6–10. Review these lessons, then follow the instructions in your student report. When you send your answer sheets to your instructor, ask him about another course of study.

Check Your Answers

- 1 You might have listed teaching, praying for the sick, training, educating, encouraging people to pray and to be filled with the Holy Spirit, comforting, and giving opportunities to minister.
  - a actions (or works).
  - b poor.
- 2 Your answer.
- 5 are in sin, or those who have not accepted Christ as their Savior.
- 3 Suggested answers:
  - a You might prepare a meal for the family and get help from a mechanic.
  - b Send financial aid.
  - c Organize a work crew to help make their homes livable again.
  - d Visit his or her home and then help according to the need.
- 6 You should have circled them all, as each is important in evangelizing the lost.

One Final Word

This is a special kind of book because it was written by people who care about you. These are joyful people who have found good answers to many of the questions and problems that trouble almost everyone in the world. These people believe that God wants them to share with others the answers they have found. They believe that you need some important information in order to answer your own questions and problems and find the way of life that is best for you.

They have prepared this book in order to give you this information. You will find this book based on these fundamental truths:

1. You need a Savior. Read Romans 3:23, Ezekiel 18:20.
2. You cannot save yourself. Read 1 Timothy 2:5, John 14:6.
3. God desires that the world should be saved. Read John 3:16-17.
4. God sent Jesus who gave His life to save all those who believe in Him. Read Galatians 4:4-5, 1 Peter 3:18.
5. The Bible shows us the way of salvation and teaches how to grow in the Christian life. Read John 15:5, John 10:10, 2 Peter 3:18.
6. You decide your eternal destiny. Read Luke 13:1-5, Matthew 10:32-33, John 3:35-36.

This book tells you how to decide your destiny, and it gives you opportunities to express your decision. Also, the book is different from others because it gives you a chance to contact people who prepared it. If you want to ask questions, or explain your needs and feelings, you may write to them.

In the back of the book you should find a card called Decision Report and Request Card. When you have made a decision, fill out the card and mail it as indicated. Then you will receive more help. You may use the card to ask questions, or make requests for prayer or information.

If there is no card in this copy of the book, write to your ICI instructor and you will receive a personal answer.
